

subcommittee has been hard at work all day getting the amendments in shape and, without conceding the basic principles of the Lipcomb bill, suggestions made by each member had been adopted, so that the final report might meet the assent of the state board.

The state board provided the bill consists of three members appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate for a term of six years each. They are to be paid $100 per diem for their services and also to be more than fifty days in any one year. They are not to interfere with the individual taxpayer, but are charged solely with equalizing the returns among counties.

Great credit is due to Chairman Akin and his assistants on the subcommittee, Representative Gresham, Mr. T. W. Swift, George C. Rogers and Lipcomb, for their work in getting the committee together. Mr. Jones was not on the subcommittee at first, but, being secretary of the whole committee, it was found necessary to add him. He has been an ardent tax revisionist from start to finish and his work in getting the bill in final shape can hardly be overestimated.

The only member of the subcommittee who dissented from some of the features of the bill as finally reported was Dr. Howell, of Elbert, who is known to be an ardent believer in tax revision. It is not believed that he will insist on the adoption of his plan, now that the committee has agreed on another.

The amendments drafted by the subcommittee followed in the main the suggestions made by Mr. Rogers. Haralson, at last Friday's meeting, it has required unusual courage on the part of Mr. Rogers to take the stand that he has, as he is a farmer, and comes from a county that is believed to be against the creation of a state board.

Following are the amendments made:

Section 1. The state board of equalization shall consist of three members appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate for a term of six years each. They are to be paid $100 per diem for their services and also to be more than fifty days in any one year. Public Comfort Station Given Warm Endorsement by J. K. Orr

COUNCIL TAKES STEPS FOR PUBLIC COMFORT

Councilman Sam Shepard, one of the leaders in the fight for the establishment of a public comfort station in Atlanta, has asked the city council to start the ball rolling in a resolution to be offered Monday afternoon. Councilman Shepard asks that a committee of six be appointed to draw up plans for the station and perfect the preliminary details before council is finally asked for an appropriation. Councilman Shepard suggests that L. C. Green, J. K. Orr and Lee Barnes be appointed on the committee, and that Mayor Woodward name three members of council. The resolution was adopted by council.

"Business men and women are strong for a public comfort station, and the supporters are unanimous for the proposed plan," said J. K. Orr, commenting on the hundreds of endorsements which are being received by the project. "The chamber of commerce committee, which has as its objective a public comfort station, has submitted to the chamber committee tentative plans for a structure to be erected in the heart of the city, and the project has aroused such enthusiastic interest that interested believe the building will be in the process of construction before the end of the month. The plans provide for a comfort station which will be a permanent feature of Atlanta, built of concrete of brick, the specifications call for a frontage of 25 feet and a depth of 40 feet. There will be entrances on the front for the building, one for men, the other for women, and an up-to-date toilet stand and soda fountain will be located between the two entrances. The rent from the building will be paid at least part of the upkeep of the plant.

"Such a building is something Atlanta ought to have, and no city of our size can afford to be without it," said Mr. Orr. "There are more advantages than one could print in the public by its establishment, and marks the growth of the city. We go to other large cities, like Chicago, New York, Chicago, and public comforts are recognized as indispensable.

"On the other hand, in smaller towns like Calhoun, Ga., they have at least a rest room for the ladies. There is every good reason why we should have one."

Mr. Orr's argument was heartily endorsed by many leading business men. A strong fight for the project will be made by William L. Moore, president of the chamber of commerce, Walter Cooper, secretary, Mayor Woodward, Recorder, Sam Shepard, Councilman Barnes and L. C. Green, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee, which has as its objective a public comfort station.

Haralson Bickley has submitted to the chamber committee tentative plans for a structure to be erected in the heart of the city, and the project has aroused such enthusiastic interest that interested believe the building will be in the process of construction before the end of the month. MAYOR MAY HOLD UP DICTAGRAPH WARRANT

Objects to Paying Expenses of Installing Instrument in Williams House

A. R. Colcord, chairman of the police committee, has asked to be allowed to install a dictagraph in the Williams house, which was put to install the dictagraph in room 36, Williams house.

"I think that I shall approve the warrant," Chairman Colcord said. "My only reason for holding the warrant up, as I have said before, was to learn by what authority it was used. There was some conflict, but I have found that the proper authority was given."

He indicated that the conflict of authority was between Chief Beavers and Detective Chief Lanford.

The amount represents the expense of installing the instrument. It does not include the fee of stenographer who will be called into the room to take the dictagraph.

Mr. Colcord said that he would not pay the expense of installing the instrument, but that he would pay the fee of the stenographer.

DETECTIVES POUNCE ON MRS. PANKHURST

Infuriated Suffragettes Try to Rescue Leader, But Are Beaten Back

London, July 21.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, militant suffragette leader, was arrested this afternoon as she entered a public hall to attend the weekly council of the Women's Social and Political Union.

Detestives pounced on Mrs. Pankhurst with dramatic suddenness and whisked her away in a taxi cab. Several women tried to rescue Mrs. Pankhurst. Using umbrellas they pelted the detectives. Six women were arrested.

Police men closed up behind Mrs. Pankhurst and her captors and stemmed the rush of infuriated women, whose yells of "murderers" and "assaults" attracted crowds.

Some of the women used hot pins as weapons. Several persons were badly hurt.

When she arrived at Holloway jail Mrs. Pankhurst refused to leave the ladies, compelling detectives to carry her in.

WATSON BOUND OVER FOR WHITE SLAVERY

Girl Claims That Quittan Man Took Her to Immoral Resort at Jacksonville.

Valdosta, Ga., July 21.—(Special)—W. R. Watson, whose home recently was here at Quittan, was given a hearing here today before United States Commissioner O. W. Franklin on a charge of white slavery and bound over to the federal court under a bond of $1500.

Watson is charged with taking Mamie Coker, a 21-year-old country girl, from her home in Brooks county to Jacksonville, Fla., for immoral purposes. She appeared against the accused and stated that she had accompanied him to Jacksonville and remained an inmate of an immoral resort there for three or four weeks.

The girl, her mother and a brother all testified that Watson had promised to marry the girl and that they left her home with the statement that they would be married in the next day. Watson made a statement in which he denied any promise to marry the girl and that they left her home with the statement that they would be married in the next day.

GEORGIAN'S BRAVE FIGHT TO SAVE HIS SWEETHEART

Undismayed by Fire and Water, Senior Senator From Georgia Is Taken to Task by New York Editor.

By John Corrigan, Jr. Washington, July 21.—(Special)—Senator Bacon's indignation over Walter H. Page's book, "The Southerner," and his statement that it had come to his attention earlier, Mr. Page would never say he had confirmed an ambassador to Great Britain, has stirred up a local controversy here.

The New York Times in an editorial this morning entitled "A Quarter Point of View" takes Senator Bacon to task in this way:

"This is a new kind of state-manship we are getting a taste of these days. The patriotic Bacon, undismayed by fire and water, will not permit anybody who has ever written a hard word, true in substance, about any state of the republic to enter the diplomatic service, Washington, D. C., and to be a senator."

As a matter of fact, The Southerner, the book accredited to Mr. W. H. Page, which is to be published by Bacon, has been highly praised by many authorities as a vigorous and spirited account of development in the south after the war between the states.

Commenting upon this Senator Bacon said that Mr. Page in his book had reflected upon his own people and section and upon the democratic party in an unparliamentary way.

"I would not have permitted his construction, but I know the contents of this book, and I am not alone among the democratic party in feeling that Senator Bacon declared."

Mr. Page was born in North Carolina and was formerly editor of World's Work.

GOOLSBY, OF GEORGIA, WOULD FIGHT MEXICO. Washington, July 21.—(Special)—A patriotic Georgian, who is evidently looking for trouble in Mexico, has written the following letter to Senator Bacon.

"If the United States decide on intervention in Mexico would the administration accept a volunteer corps from this locality?"

The letter is dated at Astoria, Ga., and signed Brax E. Goolbsy. Mr. Goolbsy does not say whether he wants to raise a company or only advise.

CHANCELLOR, Athens, Ga.

ATLANTA'S LATEST SKYSCRAPER, THE MAGNIFICENT HURT BUILDING, WILL USE CENTRAL STATION CURRENT FOR POWER AND LIGHT

THE HURT BUILDING

The purchase of CENTRAL STATION ELECTRIC CURRENT for light and power for the magnificent new Hurt Building, at the intersection of Pryor Street and Edgewood Avenue, is probably the highest indorsement yet given this method of obtaining electricity.

The rates and service which Mr. Joel Hurt has secured for his building are the standard rates and identical service offered any individual or enterprise desiring electricity for power and lights under similar conditions. The contract is made to cover the requirements of the building now under erection. It contemplates that should the building be extended to double its present size the contract may be so adjusted as to meet the additional requirements at virtually the same cost at which the service could be furnished from an isolated plant. In short, a contract is made now with the hope that it will prove to the interests of the Atlanta Realty Corporation in its future building to continue to obtain its supply from the Georgia Railway & Power Company. If, after the expiration of two years, it should appear that the Atlanta Realty Corporation can produce its power from its own station at a saving worth considering, it would be at liberty to do so, and cancel the present contract.

Mr. Hurt, who built this latest monument to Atlanta's enterprise and progress, is well known as one of the greatest developers in the country. The Equitable Building and the superb Druid Hills residence section are his products; and it was he who conceived and built the first electric trolley lines in Atlanta, forerunners of the present street railway system.

Mr. Hurt is a trained engineer and is thoroughly familiar with the intricate details of the electrical business. Therefore, when he decided to buy Central Current for his masterpiece, the Hurt Building, after carefully investigating every other method of obtaining electricity, it was distinctly an expert indorsement of Central Station Current.

WHIFFS

In Ellet Class.

RUBE KISSINGER whitewashed the Crackers Monday, and in so doing accomplished what only two other teams have been able to do this season. Kissinger's in the first shut-out ever, he batted the locals away from home. The handout was a "hot" ball was certainly "right" Tuesday.

Nothing to It.

DESPITE reports that legend was going to trade Ty to Boston for the Speaker, President Jim McInnes of the Red Sox, today denied it. The report is said to be well founded as much as both men have shared their present teams, but the Red Sox have no use for Ty, and he would be expected to be sent to some other team.

Gutts' Chance.

CLARK GUTTS' Washington Americans are far from being out of the running for the American League pennant. Hocking and Johnson have won two-thirds of the games the team has played. Guts' batting average is as good as any in the league. Johnson and Hocking are expected to win.

His Offer.

WALTER JOHNSON has come out with an offer to leave the Senators after the first of September, in an effort to secure the Yankees. Johnson is said to be in the hands of the Yankees, and the Yankees are expected to accept his offer.

After Southpaws.

GUTTS is looking for southpaws. As he has hit right-handed batters, he is looking for left-handed batters. He is said to be in the hands of the Yankees, and the Yankees are expected to accept his offer.

Get Him Freed.

WIKER has been told to get out of the hands of the Yankees. He is said to be in the hands of the Yankees, and the Yankees are expected to accept his offer.

Fine Pitcher.

JOE TIMMER, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, has placed a fine pitcher in the hands of the Yankees. He is said to be in the hands of the Yankees, and the Yankees are expected to accept his offer.

A New Star.

MARAVILL, the midsize shortstop of the Boston Braves, whom we are sure to admit, was a fine pitcher in the hands of the Yankees. He is said to be in the hands of the Yankees, and the Yankees are expected to accept his offer.

Gulls Strengthen.

MIKE FINN has been added to the roster of the Boston Braves. He is said to be in the hands of the Yankees, and the Yankees are expected to accept his offer.

Recall Him.

DAVE HINTON, formerly of New Orleans, has been recalled by the Boston Braves. He is said to be in the hands of the Yankees, and the Yankees are expected to accept his offer.

Memphis, Tenn., July 21.—(Special.) Rube Kissinger got in front, backed down the home stretch nodding to the folks in the grandstand. Incidentally Memphis was a ball game from Atlanta today by the proportion of 5 to 0 to none.

It didn't take the Turtles long to bring things to an understanding. After two uneventful innings for the Crackers and one for the home side, the Turtles got busy, and it was some time before they ceased their activities.

The home crew turned their backs on Pitcher Price in the second frame, and before they changed their aim enough runs had been made to win the game.

Schwartz opened the way with a single to left field. Abstein followed with a hot shot past Smith. Kissinger dropped one down the third base line, and in Smith's hurry to hold Schwartz off he heaved to the right field side. Abstein and Schwartz and Abstein jumped and ran the tape.

Wally's Second Error. Seabough was safe on Smith's error of a grounder. Kissinger sacrificed Seabough to second, and Seabough to third. Kissinger's error was a sacrifice bunt.

At this juncture Conzelmann, who had been unloading his arm for about ten minutes, was called in to pitch. Conzelmann took up the job with a hard try to catch him off first base. Butler rolled one to short, forcing Butler at second, but Seabough counted on a second base hit to get to second.

One more run was made during the frame, and Memphis made it in the seventh frame. The home crew was out of the game, and the game was over.

Harvard Fields Wild. The visitors never had many chances, and the home crew was out of the game. The game was over.

Ten Riders Will Circle Track

In Marathon Race Tonight;

$500 Cash Prize for Winner

The Atlanta Marathon manager...

A Marathon, with all ten riders on the track at one time, will be the star event. This is the first time in the history of the Atlanta Marathon race that such an event has been attempted and it is made doubly so, arduous by reason of the size of the track, which is four laps to the mile.

The exact Marathon distance is 20 miles and 400 yards. The riders will have to ride 400 yards further than this distance as they can on the local track, but they will have to ride 192 laps of 20 miles and 400 yards.

The winner of the race will receive a $500 cash prize and a silver cup. The prize will be sufficient for the rider to buy a new car, a new house, or a new boat.

The slow fellows will have just as much a chance to win as the fast ones. The slow fellows will have just as much a chance to win as the fast ones.

To pull off the race the local motorcycle management has gone to considerable expense, but they believe that the race will be a success.

There will be ten riders in the race. The riders will be: 1. Harry Welch, 2. Harry Welch, 3. Harry Welch, 4. Harry Welch, 5. Harry Welch, 6. Harry Welch, 7. Harry Welch, 8. Harry Welch, 9. Harry Welch, 10. Harry Welch.

Memphis, Tenn., July 21.—(Special.) Rube Kissinger got in front, backed down the home stretch nodding to the folks in the grandstand. Incidentally Memphis was a ball game from Atlanta today by the proportion of 5 to 0 to none.

It didn't take the Turtles long to bring things to an understanding. After two uneventful innings for the Crackers and one for the home side, the Turtles got busy, and it was some time before they ceased their activities.

The home crew turned their backs on Pitcher Price in the second frame, and before they changed their aim enough runs had been made to win the game.

Schwartz opened the way with a single to left field. Abstein followed with a hot shot past Smith. Kissinger dropped one down the third base line, and in Smith's hurry to hold Schwartz off he heaved to the right field side. Abstein and Schwartz and Abstein jumped and ran the tape.

Wally's Second Error. Seabough was safe on Smith's error of a grounder. Kissinger sacrificed Seabough to second, and Seabough to third. Kissinger's error was a sacrifice bunt.

At this juncture Conzelmann, who had been unloading his arm for about ten minutes, was called in to pitch. Conzelmann took up the job with a hard try to catch him off first base. Butler rolled one to short, forcing Butler at second, but Seabough counted on a second base hit to get to second.

One more run was made during the frame, and Memphis made it in the seventh frame. The home crew was out of the game, and the game was over.

Harvard Fields Wild. The visitors never had many chances, and the home crew was out of the game. The game was over.

The bill of Senator Fred Kne, of the sixteenth district, removing the disabilities of William B. Colonel R. T. Bennett Dead.

Waynesboro, N. C., July 21.—Colonel R. T. Bennett died at his home here this morning after a brief illness of pneumonia, aged 70.

Did Deer Have Influence?

Mr. Kent, in defending himself before the committee, stated that the petition requesting the legislature to reinstate him was drawn up by the bar association at a barbecue and that at the barbecue two kegs of beer, containing 150 bottles each, were given to the lawyers and that while he did not charge them with being drunk, he did think that this beverage had something to do with their action.

COOLER WEATHER LOWERED COTTON

Breaking of Hot Spell Causes
Decline of 5 to 12 Points in Futures—Selling in the Last Hour Caused Loss.

New York, July 21.—With a sudden drop in temperature over the entire cotton belt on Sunday and heavy showers in parts of the south Atlantic states, the cotton market developed moderate bearishness today and closed steady at a net decline of 5 to 12 points.

The opening, which was steady and 7 to 11 points lower, reflected, in some degree, the weakness at Liverpool, which at the hour of the local opening was about 10 to 12 points lower than it had been on Saturday. It was, however, being influenced by the disappearance of high temperatures over the belt, offerings were quite liberal and included a good deal of the cotton brought in from the south at the close of last week on the 12 to 13 points.

The opening, which was steady and 7 to 11 points lower, reflected, in some degree, the weakness at Liverpool, which at the hour of the local opening was about 10 to 12 points lower than it had been on Saturday. It was, however, being influenced by the disappearance of high temperatures over the belt, offerings were quite liberal and included a good deal of the cotton brought in from the south at the close of last week on the 12 to 13 points.

According to some authorities, the recent drop has been induced by the fact that the heavy showers in sections of the eastern belt, following the heavy rains of the previous week, have caused the cotton to be in better condition than it was at the close of last week. This gave encouragement to the bulls and the market acted quite steadily through midday and up to the last half hour, when selling of the cotton brought in from the south checked the improvement and produced a moderate setback.

As freely predicted yesterday, the detailed weather reports showed a continuation of extraordinarily high temperatures in the central and southern belts up to the close of last week, but indicated a drop in temperature in the maximum on Sunday. Aside from scattered showers, however, there was no rain and many cotton growers in the western belt had the crop well under way. It was admitted, nevertheless, that the dry weather had minimized the danger of damage and some took the view that the more than ordinary dry weather in the south at this time of year would have no effect on the cotton crop.
